PONEMENT

(By United Press)
Washington, April 7.—Former Secretary of the Interior Fall called a halt on prosecution of the Miller Brothers in the Oklahoma Indian land fraud cases in which they were involved, according to a letter introduced in the records of the senate Daugherty investigating committee today.

Edwin S. Booth, solicitor of the interior department, gave the committee a letter from Fall to Attorney General Daugherty dated April 10, 1921, in which Fall asked postponement of action against the Miller Brothers until later term of the Oklahoma court.

Fall wrote Daugherty that "the public interest would not be jeopardized by withholding the case" until the later term, and said that Indian Commissioner Burke wanted to go over them.

Two days later, according to testimony of H. M. Peck, then United States district attorney of Oklahoma, was ordered by the department of justice to postpone the cases.

Senator Herrell, Oklahoma, told the senate committee that he took a hand in the Miller Brothers land fraud cases to prevent a "scandal."

When Harry M. Daugherty, then attorney general, served notice in August, 1921, that he intended to remove L. M. Peck as United States district attorney in Oklahoma before the case came to trial, Herrell said he went to Daugherty and told him a scandal would surely result. The cases revolved around alleged procurement by the Millers Brothers of 10,000 acres of Indian land valued at $500,000 through fraudulent means.

PORTS SOON

(By United Press)
Paris, April 7.—Irritated by delays in submission of the expert reports on the reparations commission, General Charles G. Dawes, chairman of committee number one today fixed Wednesday as the day for delivery of the reports, barring unforeseen mechanical difficulties.

Dawes presided over a session of the experts this morning and told his associates bluntly that they must finish revamping and translating the reports today.

The American plainly was extremely annoyed by the recent delays occasioned by adjusting the language of the French and English texts and kept the committee sitting long after the usual lunch hour.

Although it has been language difficulties—the retention of the most delicate shades of meaning alike in French and English—these delays of the reports the past few days have witnessed a determined struggle within the Dawes committee over reparations figures—the amount that Germany should pay.

Some figures were left blank even in the third proof of the English text, but now have been filled in. Three months plugging is telling physically on the experts. They all show the effects of their efforts.

THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT IS RECOGNIZED

COOLIDGE LEADERS CONCEN-TRATING ON MINIMIZING SPLIT

QUESTION NOW IS HOW BIG THE
INDEPENDENT VOTE WILL BE

(By United Press)
Washington, April 7.—No longer denying the existence of a third party movement, Coolidge political leaders are concentrating their efforts on minimizing the split. They want to rob the independent movement as much as they can of its power for harm to the Coolidge candidacy.

The whole question now is how big the independent vote will be and which party it will hurt most.

On the face of things, the republicans stand to suffer more than the democrats since the new movement of protest centers in what is normally republican territory.

Although they are not spending much time now hunting for the reason for the break, the Coolidge leaders said it did not come as a result of the oil and other scandals, but because of the failure of congress to back up the president. Keenest disappointment is expressed over the refusal of congress to pass farm relief legislation. Action on this, it is felt, would have saved the situation.

It is now too late to expect any executive legislation and the Coolidge leaders are no longer depending on it. They have, in fact, dismissed congress from consideration as an asset and except for the hoped for passage of the tax bill, they look for no aid from the legislators.

Instead, the whole campaign is to be centered upon showing that the president has done well under tremendous handicaps and in appealing for election not only of Mr. Coolidge, but of a thoroughly republican congress.

The democrats will be blamed for the failure of this congress to function. The progressive bloc will not be assailed—at least not in the west.

Drive Auto in Freight Car, Advice of Early Tourist

St. Paul, April 7.—If you must insist on driving to Chicago, now, drive into a freight car and just play with the steering wheel while the railroad does the work.

That's the warning by C. H. Lasiter, Detroit, Mich., en route to Oregon via Yellowstone park, who pulled into the Twin Cities late Sunday.

Mr. Lasiter said Central Wisconsin had 10-foot snow banks and bottomless mud, that he had to ship his car by rail from Elroy to LaCrosse, and that even then, all the way up to Hastings the mud was hub deep.

New York, April 7.—George B. DeLong, of New York, and Robert L. Coleman, of San Francisco, have been killed by bandits on a highway between Tirana and Scutari, Albania, according to a radiogram received by the Albanian consulate here today.

The Americans were shot down from ambush Sunday morning at a spot about thirty miles from Tirana. Albanian authorities have taken every measure to apprehend the murderers, the radiograms said. The district where the murder occurred is remote and the crime was not discovered until some hours after they had been killed.

Strong detachments of men immediately were ordered to the scene and they are searching the country.

The consulate said it was the first time American nationals had been attacked in Albania and that "the government and people of Albania are profoundly distressed."

COOLIDGE AND JOHNSON BATTLE IN MICHIGAN

LIGHT VOTE THROUGHOUT STATE

RIS AND FORD ARE CANDIDATES

(By United Press)
Detroit, Mich., April 7.—Michigan, Hiram Johnson's stronghold in 1920, went to the polls today to choose between President Coolidge and the California senator in the republican presidential primary.

A light vote throughout the state was predicted. In a few cities hotly contested local elections were bringing out the voters.

Johnson and Coolidge supporters both expressed confidence in the outcome. The senator wound up a tour of the state last week.

In the democratic primary voters will choose between Senator W. N. Ferris and Henry Ford. Party leaders are uneasy, fearing that the automobile manufacturer despite his avowed support of President Coolidge will nose out Ferris, whose name was put on the presidential ballot principally to keep the delegation from going to Ford.

Ford never sanctioned the use of his name, and furthermore refused to take any steps himself to have it removed.

A third entry in the republican primary, William G. Simpson, Michigan engineer, is not expected to cut much of a figure.

GERMANY LIABLE FOR SINKING TEN AMERICAN SHIPS

Washington, April 7.—The mixed claim commission adjudicating claims growing out of the war with Germany today decided Germany is liable for damages to the sinking of 10 American ships during the war.

The decision was a preliminary one and did not touch the question of the value of the ships involved.

MUSSOLINI SCORES A BIG TRIUMPH IN ITALIAN ELECTION

(By United Press)
Rome, April 7.—Premier Mussolini scored a tremendous triumph in Italy's republican elections, his fascist leaders today claiming 40 per cent of the entire vote.

It is certain that the fascist polled more than 25 per cent of Sunday's total vote, thus ensuring them the election of a solid parliament majority of 356 delegates.

With the victory thus won, fascism reaches a constitutional basis and Mussolini is assured of remaining in power virtually indefinitely unless splits should eventually occur within his own party.

Under the present parliamentary regime, the premier of Italy cannot be overthrown by minority opposition parties, but only by his own party.

Mussolini arranged this before the elections.

SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST IRON ORE ROYALTIES TAX

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 7.—Hearing on the motion for a permanent injunction against the state tax on iron ore royalties opened before Judge William A. Cant in federal court here today.

The tax is an unfair discrimination and unconstitutional, the Royal Mineral company, plaintiffs, contended.

No royalty tax is assessed against the quarrying industry or against stockholders in companies taking gravel, sand and other materials from the ground, the company pointed out.

About 40 holders of stocks in iron mining companies have joined in the action seeking an injunction against the royalty tax.

The Royal Mineral company was selected to make the test case. No matter what the decision of the court may be, the case will be appealed to the supreme court, attorneys for both sides said.

The state is represented by Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton and his assistants.

The state has already begun the process of trying to collect the tax, which will amount to almost $1,000,000 to the state.

His wife, who fasted 43 days in sympathy with him is slowly recovering.

The aged couple were said to have followed rules for fasting in a magazine.

Johnson weighed 206 pounds when he started fasting. At his death he weighed 125 pounds.

It probably will be necessary to ship the spare parts to Prince Rupert.

The four planes arrived here late yesterday from Seattle, Wash.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 7.—Caught by a speeding motorist and dragged 30 feet along the Jefferson Highway in the wreckage of his bicycle, Leon Loucks, 16, was killed Sunday.

The boy was a student at St. Cloud technical high school.

Three men in a machine answering the description of the one which killed young Loucks and sped on at fifty miles an hour were caught at Sauk Rapids and held for questioning. A farmer a mile and a half from the scene of the tragedy found an abandoned car which may have figured in the accident.

Benton county authorities are investigating. Allen Bonin, 18, who was riding with the Loucks boy, said he saw the car coming down the highway and turned into the ditch to avoid being struck. His companion was caught.

SCORE WERE IN-JURED

(By United Press)
Lilly, Pa., April 7.—State police are in control of Lilly, following a revolver battle Saturday night between members of the Ku Klux Klan and townsfolk, in which two men were killed and a score injured.

The riot followed when a group of young men turned the fire hose on more than 500 klansmen who were marching to the railroad station after holding a ceremony on Piper Hill.

When the water struck the marchers, it is alleged members of the Klan drew revolvers and fired into the townsfolk.

Many of the townsfolk who were armed, returned the fire. The men on opposing sides who were unarmed used bricks and stones for weapons.

At the first volley Phillip Conrad, 25, and Floyd Paul, 25, townsfolk, were shot through the breast and killed.

Four men of Lilly believed to have been the ringleaders in the riot are under arrest today and are being held for questioning.

State troopers made the arrests after an investigation. Fifteen of the townsfolk injured in the battle are in hospitals at Altoona and Johnstown and a like number of men are at their home nursing lacerations and bruises.

GOVERNOR KEEPS IN TOUCH WITH SITUATION

Harrisburg, Pa., April 7.—Governor Pinchot today threw every agency at his command to investigate the riot at Lilly Saturday night.

Twelve state police were at Lilly under orders of the superintendent of state police.

Governor Pinchot, although he had no comment to make, said he was keeping in close touch with the situation. Action by the state is not expected unless there are further disorders.

Senate: Debates immigration bill.
Finance committee on tax bill.
Daugherty investigation.
Oil investigation.
Internal revenue bureau investigation.
House: Routine business.

Washington, April 7.—Senate democrats put the finishing touches on their tax reduction program today.

While its details are being kept secret until the republicans bring their bill out of committee—probably tomorrow—this much of the democratic plan is known:

1. It cuts the income taxes of the man with an income of $10,000 or less even more than the bill passed by the house.

2. It adds a little to the 37 1/2 per cent maximum surtax adopted by the house, making it around 40 per cent as compared with 25 per cent in the Mellon plan.

The democratic substitute was drawn up by Senators Simmons, Pat Harrison and King, minority members of the finance committee who took the amount Secretary Mellon said he needed—$325,000,000,—and redistributed the taxes in the manner they believe will provide more equal spreading of the tax burdens.

JAKE HAMON, A REGULAR TREASURY

Washington, April 7.—The late Jake Hamon spent $400,000 "for a republican victory" in the election of President Harding, J. B. French of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, friend of Hamon, told the senate oil committee today.

"When Jake Hamon came back from the 1920 republican convention I asked him if he was going to get into the cabinet," French said. "He told me that he did not know, but he said he had spent too much money—about $400,000—for a republican victory."

French said he knew nothing of reports that Hamon swung money and votes to the late Mr. Harding at the convention in return for a promise of the secretaryship of the interior.

Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer of the democratic committee, was the first witness called when the session opened. Marsh resigned January 15th of this year.

Marsh said he could not remember the amounts contributed by E. L. Doehny to the party fund, but he said the records are accessible at the national headquarters here.

Washington, April 7.—Practically all provisions of the new tax bill to be reported within a day or two by the senate finance committee were made known today.

The bill under final agreement reached in committee, provides:

A three per cent normal tax on incomes of less than $4,000.

A six per cent normal tax on incomes of more than $4,000.

A maximum surtax of 25 per cent on incomes over $100,000.

A tax of 25 per cent on inheritance of more than $10,000,000.

A ten per cent tax on all jewelry costing more than $25.

Slightly more exemptions on the taxes on automobiles.

A flat corporation tax of 14 per cent instead of 12 1/2 per cent.

A tax of ten per cent on all admissions over 50c.

A tax of ten per cent on radio parts and sets, and Mah Jongg sets.

Taxes upon telegraph and telephone messages and tobacco will remain the same instead of being reduced as in the bill passed by the house provides.

The following taxes will be wiped out under the new senate bill:

Beverages, candy, corporation capital stock, capital loss provisions, straight levy on theatre and circuses, knives, dirks and daggers, liveries, hunting, shooting and riding garments, yachts and motorboat sales, carpets, rugs, trunks and purses.

Chairman Smoot of the committee now expects to complete the bill finally tonight. He announced he would not report it to the senate until it is printed and this may not be done until Wednesday.

Smoot had received a deluge of telegrams against the provision accepted Saturday under which all radio instruments would be taxed ten per cent with no exemptions.

JAKE HAMON, A REGULAR TREASURY

Washington, April 7.—The late Jake Hamon spent $400,000 "for a republican victory" in the election of President Harding, J. B. French of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, friend of Hamon, told the senate oil committee today.

"When Jake Hamon came back from the 1920 republican convention I asked him if he was going to get into the cabinet," French said. "He told me that he did not know, but he said he had spent too much money—about $400,000—for a republican victory."

French said he knew nothing of reports that Hamon swung money and votes to the late Mr. Harding at the convention in return for a promise of the secretaryship of the interior.

Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer of the democratic committee, was the first witness called when the session opened. Marsh resigned January 15th of this year.

Marsh said he could not remember the amounts contributed by E. L. Doherty to the party fund, but he said the records are accessible at the national headquarters here.

MAIN SAMELIST OF TAXES GIVEN TO BE
WIPE OUT UNDER NEW BILL

(By United Press)
Washington, April 7.—Practically all provisions of the new tax bill to be reported within a day or two by the senate finance committee were made known today.

The bill under final agreement reached in committee, provides:

A three per cent normal tax on incomes of less than $4,000.

A six per cent normal tax on incomes of more than $4,000.

A maximum surtax of 25 per cent on incomes over $100,000.

A tax of 25 per cent on inheritance of more than $10,000,000.

A ten per cent tax on all jewelry costing more than $25.

Slightly more exemptions on the taxes on automobiles.

A flat corporation tax of 14 per cent instead of 12 1/2 per cent.

A tax of ten per cent on all admissions over 50c.

A tax of ten per cent on radio parts and sets, and Mah Jongg sets.

Taxes upon telegraph and telephone messages and tobacco will remain the same instead of being reduced as in the bill passed by the house provides.

The following taxes will be wiped out under the new senate bill:

Beverages, candy, corporation capital stock, capital loss provisions, straight levy on theatre and circuses, knives, dirks and daggers, liveries, hunting, shooting and riding garments, yachts and motorboat sales, carpets, rugs, trunks and purses.

Chairman Smoot of the committee now expects to complete the bill finally tonight. He announced he would not report it to the senate until it is printed and this may not be done until Wednesday.

Smoot had received a deluge of telegrams against the provision accepted Saturday under which all radio instruments would be taxed ten per cent with no exemptions.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION GOAL

"Every Child in a Sunday School and a Bible in Every Home"

RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

Conditions in This Territory Reviewed by Missionary W. J. Smith

(By W. J. Smith Missionary)

The aim and goal of the American Sunday School Union is "Every child in a Sunday school, and a Bible in every home."

In honor to those who contribute from year to year to this work, I feel that it is only right that they should know what is being accomplished and something of the religious conditions in Minnesota's last frontier.

Minnesota's last frontier may have been reached as far as primitive conditions are concerned, for the ox team and the homesteader are scarce now. Northern Minnesota is honey-combed with good roads and better conditions.

But as far as religious conditions are concerned, I can see very little difference in the frontier of eighteen years ago, and the frontier of today. Just a few miles beyond our city limits and out as far as I have been able to reach, it is all frontier, all a vast missionary field, with the same great dearth for gospel privileges and with the same great need for missionary effort.

Other agencies have sprung up, endeavoring to meet the growing need, but many of them have been like a flash of powder in a pan—up and then out. But the work of the American Sunday School Union, like the small automobile, goes rambling right along, minus the rattle. There is not much rattle to the American Sunday School Union work, and it does not get any too much credit from the outside world. It is often criticised by other religious agencies, but it is always on the job, and I do not know of any other agency that is doing as much, or half as much, to alleviate the great spiritual dearth that we know exists in the rural districts.

Our efforts in behalf of these people whom we are aiming to serve is not without due appreciation. Two things we are absolutely sure of: one that the field is there, the other that the need is there, and a large share of the credit for what the Society, and myself as a missionary have been able to accomplish in behalf of the children in these neglected communities, belongs to you who have so generously and cheerfully contributed to this work.

The following is a report of my work from March 1st, 1923 to March 31st, 1924:

I have organized five new schools, with seventeen teachers and officers and 155 pupils and re-organized three others with twelve teachers and officers and one hundred pupils.

I have made 49 visits to other schools that run continuously, bringing me in touch with 153 teachers and officers and 1,560 children and adults.

Another feature of our work is the conducting of group gatherings, where we get as many of our Sunday Schools as possible to gather at some central point for an all-day service, for which a special program is arranged, each school taking part.

Sunday School methods and problems are discussed and inspiring addresses given by local and prominent Sunday School workers. Four of these gatherings were held on my field last year, twenty Sunday Schools taking part. At each of these gatherings, which were held in the open country, from 150 to 300 children and adults were present.

During the year I gave 77 sermons and addresses, visited 468 families, eleven persons professed conversions, 4,284 miles were traveled. I was called upon to conduct a number of funerals. I distributed in the home much religious literature and many Bibles.

I beg for your continued sympathy and support in this needy work.

PIANO RECITAL

Given Friday Afternoon By Pupils at Home of Mrs. Norman F. Ziebell

On Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Norman F. Ziebell, was given a piano recital by some of her pupils. Those taking part did much credit to their teacher in their manner and style of playing.

Phoebe Jack, of Crow Wing, played several selections in a charming manner. Her interpretation of "The Merry Fruit Pickers" was exceedingly good.

Ila Stowell showed much gace in her phrasing of a Carl Millergram selection.

"Moonbeams" by Iva Gaskill was well rendered as was her second number.

Lorraine Morrison in her very pleasing way played "Waltz at Twilight" by Theo Lack and "Le-Rayon (The Little Sunbeam)" by John Carver Alden two technically difficult numbers.

The closing number of the program, which was greatly enjoyed by all, was the playing of the Franz Liszt Nocturne "Love's Dream" by their teacher Mrs. Ziebell.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess and all voted the afternoon to have been profitable and pleasant.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid

The Presbyterian ladies aid will give an Easter sale and luncheon Thursday afternoon, April 10th, at the home of Mrs. O. A. Peterson, 703 North 7th street.

Members and friends are asked to bear the date in mind. Bungalow aprons, lingerie and fancy needlework will be placed on sale. The men are invited to come and have supper.

1st Congregational Aid

The ladies aid of the First Congregational church is making elaborate plans for its Easter sale which will be held in the church parlors on next Friday, April 11th.

An exceptionally complete line of fancy work and useful articles will be offered at this sale, to which the public is invited.

Luncheon will be served during the afternoon, and a regular supper between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock.

APPLY SULPHUR ON YOUR ECZEMA SKIN

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv't.

ROTARY'S IDEALS AND ASPIRATIONS

"Clarion Call" is Title of Address Delivered by Rev. Hans J. Wolner

BEFORE LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

On Occasion of 19th Anniversary of the Founding of "Rotary"

On the occasion of the 19th anniversary of the founding of Rotary, Rev. Hans J. Wolner delivered an address before the local club, and it was so well received that the Dispatch publishes it in full. Its title as given by Rev. Wolner is "The Clarion Call." Rev. Wolner said:

President and brothers all: It is needless for me to say that I appreciate the opportunity extended at this time to once again inflict my natural weakness upon you, a weakness which since my admission to Rotary is gradually being brought under control; I refer to the prevalent disease of talking excessively and acting very sparingly. The need today is for less talk, talk, and more work, work, work; however, words have a tremendous influence as a recent writer well realized when his pen left this record:

"The words of diplomats," wrote this man, "have spilled the blood of millions." The book of books declares that we should be very sparing with our words, for it advises us to let our yea be yea and our nay be nay, but, seeing that this week is known in Rotary as "Anniversary Week of Rotary International" and that our International President, Guy Gundaker, desires that all clubs fittingly observe the same, your committee has given me full liberty to go the limit, which, under all these favorable circumstances I propose to do.

I am not in a position to guarantee the results of this effort as did the son of a certain clergyman who was wonderfully impressed of his father's ability:

"You bet," said the loyal youngster, "my Pa can preach, for every time my Pa preaches it taxes six men to collect the money." To set your pocketbooks at rest, I take the liberty of announcing that there is to be no collection at the close of this address.

Those of you who are married men, understand fully what a responsibility rests upon you when called upon to name the baby; an equal responsibility rested upon me in finding a fitting name for this literary infant and I sincerely hope that the grandmas and grandpas present will approve of the title: "The Clarion Call."

This call is now being relayed around the world and is described in the words which form the keynote of the 19th anniversary of "Rotary International," namely: "the advancement of understanding, good-will and international peace through the fellowship of men who put service above self."

As a general rule all great developments have their beginnings in a small way. The Master illustrated this truth when He said:

"Whereunto shall we liken the Kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth; but when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it." Thus did Rotary start in the city of Chicago on the 23rd day of February, 1905, apparently as insignificant as a grain of mustard seed, but it has shot out great branches under whose shadows, at the present time, over ninety thousand men throughout the world, are learning by word and deed, that the greatest are those who serve mankind the best. So potent for fellowship and right understanding has this organization become, that in response to an invitation from the germ club, Chicago No. 1, the President of these United States, on the eve of our nineteenth anniversary, has expressed himself as being most happy to send, via telephone, telegraph, cable and radio, a message throughout the world emphasizing the value and need of doing all in our power to advance understanding, good-will and peace among all peoples.

The wildest dreamer, the most sanguine prophet, could scarcely have hoped for such development of an ideal in the short space of nineteen years, but we have been assured that, possessing real faith, we can move mountains, and without doubt, a living working faith in the principles for which this organization stands is doing much to remove the mountains of prejudice and hate which have held men in bondage, to these many centuries, and we are justly proud in the thought that the leadership of this republic, the birth-place of rotary, will, through the spoken word, reach the ears, and we hope and pray, also the hearts and consciences, of the people of the world, influencing them to enlist in the army of freedmen who put love before hate, "Service above Self." Such an ideal is a challenge that real red-blooded men can well be proud to call their own, for its horizon is bounded only by eternity, and the value thereof has been demonstrated in every land that has given birth to men and women who have endeavored to put this ideal in practice as did the "Father of Our Country" and the equally immortal Abraham Lincoln.

Human nature is like a clock that at regular intervals needs rewinding else it ceases to mark the hours; so we need the springs of our better selves tightened up that our slowing steps along the pathway of real progress may regain their sprightliness, that our loyalty to a world-wide vision may not be dimmed by the soot of competition and the filth of ill-gotten gain.

"Loyalty," wrote Josiah Sibley in his book entitled "Pathfinders of the Soul Country," "is a great word. It is synonymous with the noblest elements of the soul. It is expressive, not of fleeting sentimentality, but of the heart's devotion which is true even unto the uttermost. If ambition drags forward the chariot of progress, loyalty, like hooks of steel, holds the flaming axle tree in place through all the gust and turmoil of its career. If reason and necessity decree that which must be done, loyalty with triumphant spirit and patient tread will march forward unshod, even though the roadway be covered with molten iron and strewn with broken glass."

There is need for us to stir up our fires of enthusiasm, for there is no argument necessary to convince us of the worthwhileness of the principles upon which rotary is founded, however, it is somewhat of a shock to read the recent report issued by the Chicago Rotary club that it had, for non-attendance, automatically dropped from membership in that club 110 of its members, the said number including four past presidents and one director.

Rotary is a ship of progress that must go forward, therefore, barnacles hitched to its broad sides simply for the joy of the ride, must be scraped off lest they retard the onward movement. Every rotarian knows that one of our basic rules provides for regular attendance, without which individual interest is bound to wane and collective results bound to under-shoot the mark.

The clarion call comes for loyal men to stand by the flag of "justice to all and malice to none." We are living, as even the casual student of international affairs knows, in a day and age when, over night, the tide in any land may be turned from that of progression to that of retrogression. To prevent such a disaster, the rotarians of the world have no mean part to play, for, in the words of holy writ: "we fight not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Perhaps, in true American fashion, we are boastful of the fact that today the nations of the earth must knock upon the doors of our gold reserve and crave from us a few glittering crumbs that mayhap will fall from our sumptuous table. Our real riches, however, consist not of perishable metal but of men and women fashioned in the crucible of service which knows no distinction of race, creed, "or previous condition of servitude."

a spirit of good-will and peace among all men; the writer, who, through the medium of his pen seeks equally noble results, the clergyman whose vision enables him to see, and in part understand, the call of suffering humanity, the mother and father who put forth their best efforts to give to their children an equally encircling and enfolding vision, each and every one of these and a host of others so actuated, are the real contributors to the real wealth of the world, wrong when he advised his hearers to throw down their tools and buy guns and become rich over night, for, in recent years, has been very forcibly illustrated the truth of these words: "all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." In the face of these appalling examples there yet remain, in every land, those who would have us believe that our trust should be in the sword. AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION GOAL

RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

Conditions in This Territory Reviewed by Missionary W. J. Smith

(By W. J. Smith Missionary)

The aim and goal of the American Sunday School Union is "Every child in a Sunday school, and a Bible in every home."

In honor to those who contribute from year to year to this work, I feel that it is only right that they should know what is being accomplished and something of the religious conditions in Minnesota's last frontier.

Minnesota's last frontier may have been reached as far as primitive conditions are concerned, for the ox team and the homesteader are scarce now. Northern Minnesota is honey-combed with good roads and better conditions.

But as far as religious conditions are concerned, I can see very little difference in the frontier of eighteen years ago, and the frontier of today. Just a few miles beyond our city limits and out as far as I have been able to reach, it is all frontier, all a vast missionary field, with the same great dearth for gospel privileges and with the same great need for missionary effort.

Other agencies have sprung up, endeavoring to meet the growing need, but many of them have been like a flash of powder in a pan—up and then out. But the work of the American Sunday School Union, like the small automobile, goes rambling right along, minus the rattle. There is not much rattle to the American Sunday School Union work, and it does not get any too much credit from the outside world. It is often criticised by other religious agencies, but it is always on the job, and I do not know of any other agency that is doing as much, or half as much, to alleviate the great spiritual dearth that we know exists in the rural districts.

Our efforts in behalf of these people whom we are aiming to serve is not without due appreciation. Two things we are absolutely sure of: one that the field is there, the other that the need is there, and a large share of the credit for what the Society, and myself as a missionary have been able to accomplish in behalf of the children in these neglected communities, belongs to you who have so generously and cheerfully contributed to this work.

The following is a report of my work from March 1st, 1923 to March 31st, 1924:

I have organized five new schools, with seventeen teachers and officers and 155 pupils and re-organized three others with twelve teachers and officers and one hundred pupils.

I have made 49 visits to other schools that run continuously, bringing me in touch with 153 teachers and officers and 1,560 children and adults.

Another feature of our work is the conducting of group gatherings, where we get as many of our Sunday Schools as possible to gather at some central point for an all-day service, for which a special program is arranged, each school taking part.

Sunday School methods and problems are discussed and inspiring addresses given by local and prominent Sunday School workers. Four of these gatherings were held on my field last year, twenty Sunday Schools taking part. At each of these gatherings, which were held in the open country, from 150 to 300 children and adults were present.

During the year I gave 77 sermons and addresses, visited 468 families, eleven persons professed conversions, 4,284 miles were traveled. I was called upon to conduct a number of funerals. I distributed in the home much religious literature and many Bibles.

I beg for your continued sympathy and support in this needy work.

PIANO RECITAL

Given Friday Afternoon By Pupils at Home of Mrs. Norman F. Ziebell

On Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Norman F. Ziebell, was given a piano recital by some of her pupils. Those taking part did much credit to their teacher in their manner and style of playing.

Phoebe Jack, of Crow Wing, played several selections in a charming manner. Her interpretation of "The Merry Fruit Pickers" was exceedingly good.

Ila Stowell showed much gace in her phrasing of a Carl Millergram selection.

"Moonbeams" by Iva Gaskill was well rendered as was her second number.

Lorraine Morrison in her very pleasing way played "Waltz at Twilight" by Theo Lack and "Le-Rayon (The Little Sunbeam)" by John Carver Alden two technically difficult numbers.

The closing number of the program, which was greatly enjoyed by all, was the playing of the Franz Liszt Nocturne "Love's Dream" by their teacher Mrs. Ziebell.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess and all voted the afternoon to have been profitable and pleasant.

UNIVERSAL CONSCRIPTION IN NEXT WAR

THE DISPATCH has already favored the universal conscription plan as advocated by the late President Harding and approved of by many American Legion men. The more the subject is discussed the more popular has become the Harding suggestion that in time of war the government should adopt a universal conscription policy. The more it is studied the more it appears to be the only just plan as between man and man and as between individuals who give their services and individuals who are to give the use of their capital.

The man who is conscripted for service on the battle front receives $30 per month and subsistence. He is not only required to perform far more arduous labors than a civilian worker but must endure the dangers to life and limb and the hardships of exposure to all sorts of weather and oftentimes prolonged hunger. The man who serves in the military branch of the government has no choice in the matter. He goes where he is told, when he is told and performs the duties assigned him without question, under penalty for treason in case of refusal.

It would seem that if one man can be compelled to perform such services as that for $30 per month and subsistence, no other citizen would reasonably refuse to perform other necessary services amid the comforts and the safety of domestic activities for a similar compensation. The man who would refuse should be given the alternative of going to the front and standing shoulder to shoulder with the man on the firing line.

But it was not the Harding proposal that there should be conscription of personal services only. President Harding declared himself in favor of the conscription of all services, all industries and all capital. He would draft a captain of industry exactly as he would draft the laboring man. He would assign the captain of industry to the place where he could render the most valuable service just as he would assign the laboring man. He would place a limit upon the earnings of the captain of industry so that as long as the emergency existed he would be prevented from reaping undue profits. The Harding plan would conscript capital so that in time of war no exorbitant rates of interest could be charged and, therefore, no inflation of values could take place. Since wages could not be inflated, as they were during the world war, there would be no inflation of costs of production, no increase in the cost of living, no reason for increase in compensation in any line of industry.

THE NEW HOTEL PROPOSITION

THE new hotel proposition has emerged from the nebulous vision to something approaching the beginning of reality when S. A. Sodini, Minneapolis hotel man, placed $20,000 in Liberty bonds on the table before Con O'Brien, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce hotel committee, as a start for the new hotel, and asked him pointblank what the citizens of Brainerd intended to do. The Sodini interest in this hotel project in Brainerd will lapse midnight, Saturday, April 12, if no cooperation is shown by Brainerd.

Con O'Brien on Saturday promptly wrote out his check for $500 as a donation to the hotel cause. Steps were then taken to appoint committees on solicitation to see if Brainerd can raise the $30,000 necessary as its end of the hotel project and the mass meeting was called for Monday morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sodini brought out this point. He does not expect to take business from other hotels established. In order to make his venture successful he must create and retain new business. His various hotel connections, St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Louis and other large centers will be used to start business and divert it to Brainerd. Tourists and commercial men are expected to be brought in large numbers to this section.

CINOSAM CLUB TO EXPAND

At the annual meeting of the Cinosam club, which owns extensive properties on Gull and Round lakes, B. W. Wilder, of the law firm of Taugtes & Wilder of Minneapolis, was elected president. He is very much interested in seeing the club expand.

In a letter to the Dispatch editor, Mr. Wilder made this authoritative announcement: "I am now making arrangements to erect a club house and other club buildings on the grounds to be completed this summer, and if possible before the heavy season for tourists begins. We are going to adopt the policy of favoring the Brainerd merchants, and business men, in every respect in connection with the buying of material and supplies for the club, and I think a little publicity of this fact would bring about a warmer feeling between the Brainerd folks and the club members.

"We have no grounds manager at this time, but expect to have some one employed for that purpose who resides at Brainerd, if a suitable person can be had." Cinosam club is widely known and the knowledge that large improvements are to be made soon, plus the cooperation so freely extended by President Wilder, certainly should prove of interest to Brainerd business men especially. Cinosam club brings many visitors to this section of the 10,000 lakes and all would like to see the club continue to flourish and be a factor in our increasing lake resort trade.

"400-BUSHEL POTATO" CLUB

ACCORDING to the Kansas Industrialist, the Kansas State Agricultural College is sponsoring an organization, membership in which is restricted to those farmers who shall grow 400 bushels or more of potatoes on an acre of land. This is believed to be the second "400-Bushel Potato" club organized in this country, the other being the club that already has a year or more of successful experience behind it in Pennsylvania.

The ever growing list of state "corn," "potato," "calf" and "pig" clubs is tangible evidence of the rapidly widening conviction of the necessity for stimulating interest in higher rates of yields in crops, and higher quality in cattle and pigs, as being perhaps the most practicable means of reducing production costs and insuring a fair profit to the grower, as well as benefiting the cattle man who devotes more time to stock which responds to good feeding and does not eat up returns like scrubs.

A WOMAN told us the other day she had made a new resolve. "From now on," said she, "I'll only speak good of everybody I know."

MAGNUS AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Secretary Larson, of Crow Wing County Fair Association, Assured He Will Speak

"LARRY HO" IS COMING TOO

Dates Chosen for the Annual Fair Are August 27, 28 and 29

Senator Magnus Johnson will be one of the speakers at the Crow Wing county fair this fall, unless a session of congress or some unforeseen event presents itself, according to a letter received by Secretary Larson of the Fair Board, written by the senator's secretary.

Another prominent speaker is to be "Larry Ho" Hodgson, former mayor of St. Paul. Mr. Hodgson is well known in Brainerd where he has spoken several times to large audiences. He spoke at the county fair two years ago, making a decidedly good impression.

August 27th, 28th and 29th have been chosen as the dates for Crow Wing county's fair this year, being at about the same time the event was held last season, and earlier than it was held in former years. While it comes early in the fair season, and too soon for some of the late exhibits, it was selected in preference to a date two weeks later, which would conflict with the state fair dates. The date selected gives promise of better weather and comes at a time when the farmers are not so busy, it is said.

In addition to the two speakers named above, who are sure to draw large crowds, the program will include free acts before the grandstand and a number of band concerts. The directors have decided to hold night fairs again this year, but not to attempt a fire works display. The afternoon free acts and concerts will be carried into the evenings and will be supplemented with colored motion pictures shown on an out-door canvas.

J. G. Thurlow, president of the fair association, has resigned, and F. T. Gustavson, Pequot merchant, has been appointed in his place.

57 Former Service Men on Farms Near City of Brainerd

Fifty-seven former service men are taking training on their own farms in the territory adjacent to Brainerd under the supervision of the United States Veterans' bureau. Their training and instruction is under the immediate care of the local board of education which has a contract with the bureau, covering such instruction.

The trainees are allowed regular training pay by the Veterans' bureau on the following scale: $100 monthly for a single man, $35 additional for a wife, $10 for the first child, $7.50 for the second and $5 each for each of the next three, and $2.50 for the sixth, the maximum for a family being $170 a month. Out of this income the trainee pays for the land he has purchased, on the monthly installment plan and for the improvements, equipment and stock for his farm, which usually consists of 40 to 80 acres.

Various kinds of intensive farming is taken up by those men such as dairying, poultry raising, bee culture, fur farming, berry raising or some combination of these. A few plan on general agriculture.

There is a general supervisor and two instructors in the Brainerd territory who visit the trainees every week or 10 days and keep in close touch with the men and instruct them at every step of their progress. The instructors report that these men are making excellent progress. The men are well satisfied and can look ahead to the day when they will be the owners of small, intensively cultivated farms, and independent.

There are other training centers, similar to the one at Brainerd, located at Bemidji, Grand Rapids, Mankato, McGrath, Moose Lake, Orchard Gardens, Atkin and Onamia.

In all there are about 800 disabled soldiers being trained in agriculture and acquiring farms of their own in district No. 10 of the Veterans' bureau. They constitute a very promising "back-to-the-land" movement.

dress that the President of the United States is to deliver, are aimed to give the lie to those whose ideal is so medieval as to delight in praying, "God bless me and mine, us four and no more."

Co-operation one with the other is the watchword of the hour; capitalists now realize that they cannot get along without labor and those who labor, under the guidance of capital, know full well that they cannot exist without capital. The suffering of one is the suffering of all and the peace and happiness of one are the peace and happiness of all, "for no man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself." The regularity of the pulse-beat of the world is in direct ratio to the quality of the streams which pour into the central station and from there are again given force and momentum to reach the uttermost limits of humanity; as the inflowing streams are putrid, sluggish, lacking in vital life, so, in proportion, will the arterial blood of the United States, or any other sub-station, lose its energizing qualities. This seems to be a very simple and axiomatic truth, but, after all these ages, we have at last reached only the dawn of its realization. Thank God that even in this late day, the sun of understanding and good-will has passed, by a slight margin, the horizon of international understanding and is warming the hearts and consciences of men as never before since the dawn of history. Truly our young men have cause to dream dreams and our old men to see visions. One of these dreams is the abolishment of war, for most assuredly no nation can cultivate understanding and good-will among men and at one and the same time engage in an orgy of manufacture of engines of destruction; for such a nation will by the eternal laws of progress ultimately find itself in the position in which Lady Macbeth found herself when she exclaimed:

"Out, damned spot, out, I say! What, will these hands never be clean? Here's the smell of the blood still; all the perfumes of Arabia will not sweeten this little hand."

But what in her case all the washings and anointments failed to accomplish, the ointment of good-will among men will do for the world if this box of precious helpfulness is spilled over the earth for the healing, purifying and uplifting of the nations.

Lives there a rotarian with soul so dead as not to be aroused to action in a cause so noble, an opportunity so far-reaching, an investment holding out such eternal reward? Shall we, who are pledged to these efforts, content ourselves by standing on the sidelines as the conflict between love and hate is waged before our drooping eyes? Brothers, unless we bend every effort to make operative the ideals which we profess, the day will come when the historian will be forced to record that in the golden age of possibility, the peoples of the United States failed in their duty to the world.

This nation conceived and dedicated as it was by some of the noblest of earth's kind, at this very hour stands upon the threshold of the most glorious opportunity ever offered to leaders of men, and it can grasp that opportunity only as we individually, the component parts of this commonwealth, take hold, and by voice and act declare to all ages, that we, as heretofore, pledge our fortunes and our sacred honor to bring to birth the era when world brotherhood shall be an actuality rather than a slogan. In this effort all unselfish men are enlisted, and, as it is with out doubt according to right principles, then ultimately it must prevail. The privilege comes to us, who enjoy rich blessings dearly purchased, to do our full share in the cause of international understanding and good-will, that the escutcheon of our ideals may ever remain unsullied. The task is certainly not an easy one, for the ideal is high; nor are we to believe that its ultimate adoption is within easy distance, nevertheless, men in days, which are still vivid in our mind's eye, knew its compelling power and held it up as an incentive that our young manhood might be stirred to action in a war of right against might, a war to forever end war; that men were stirred as never before by the breadth and scope of this vision we know full well and many of the world's finest flowers fell before the scythe of death doing their bit to usher in the day when war shall be no more. Has the ideal for which they fought, bled and died vanished as a mist before the scorching sun of national greed and individual preference? Some declare that it has, but on this our nineteenth birthday every rotarian, either passively or actively, throughout the wide world, declares that it has not, and pledges his efforts to make this ideal an actuality. Today, that is during this week, there will be delivered a world-wide message upon the subject of understanding, good-will and peace among men in every Rotary club on the face of the earth.

We stand today at the crossroads, and there rings in our ears these words: "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." Heretofore we have pinned out faith on the supremacy of the material and our banners have read: "Might makes Right." I leave you to answer, each for himself, have the years that are past, proved to us that this standard is the one we should continue to support in order that civilization may not be wiped off the earth and that universal peace might be established? There are those, both in church and state, who maintain that there is nothing of real value except that which can be sustained by so called scientific analysis; there are, on the other hand, those who believe that the greatest forces of life are beyond the ken of the natural man but are none the less real, even more real, because they are essentially spiritual and therefore, can only be spiritually discerned and through the medium of the spirit. We have tried the material conception and seemingly have proved its severe limitations, and, by the goodness of God, once again there is offered to us the chance to try the spiritual. Will you take this way? Will you proceed along the narrow path which leadeth to the salvation of the world, or shall we continue on the broad way which always has and always will lead to destruction? Brothers, we cannot straddle like a colossus, for no man can serve two masters; "Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

Evidently "Rotary International" sees the need of a new birth among the sons of men and I am proud to be able to add my voice to swell the mighty chorus. I consider it an honor to stand shoulder to shoulder in the rotary chain of living men who are endeavoring to make right principles operative. Mayhap I am but a penny whistle in the grand orchestra, but a thousand tin whistles, lustily blown, are bound to effect the nervous system to a limited extent and at this time thousands of penny whistles are doing their bit to sound the clarion call of international peace.

I know of no better way to clinch the nail that I have been hammering, than to give you a quotation with which you are all very familiar. I purposely, and with apology, change the wording a trifle that it may fit the international scope:

"It is for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from our honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion." So, my brothers in Rotary, will we be instrumental in God's hands to bring about international good-will and peace upon the earth.

"Waft, waft, ye winds this story,
And ye, ye waters, roll,
Till like a sea of glory,
It spreads from pole to pole."

Gasoline Prices Are Low

OF ALL you can buy for the price of a pot of coffee or the washing of four or five collars, the biggest value is a gallon of gasoline made by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This gallon of gasoline, obtainable everywhere, gives you power for your automobile. It saves you inconvenience—lost time—and often from ill health.

It carries you from 8 to 22 miles, depending upon the road and your engine. It meets, swiftly, an emergency call in time of need. It gives you tangible, fundamental satisfaction, all for the expenditure of a few cents.

Automobilists, absorbed with their own affairs, sometimes fail to realize that gasoline is cheap; that the costs of finding, refining and distributing crude oil are enormous.

Authorities agree that the prospector and wild-catter on "probable" acreage has 1 chance in 400—while the company with a thoroughly organized geological department has but 1 chance in 20 of finding oil.

Leases on proved ground cost as much as $10,000 an acre. The average cost of drilling, today, is more than $25,000 a well.

Millions must be invested in pipe lines and tank cars to transport the crude oil. Add to this the cost of refineries—the investment in steel storage tanks to insure a dependable supply of raw materials and finished products regardless of season—the intricate machinery of transportation and delivery—gasoline service stations at convenient spots in the city and along the highway, and you will appreciate that the price of gasoline is low.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in its effort to render a vital service has been a determining factor in bringing you a gallon of gasoline at an exceedingly low price.

Only extreme efficiency in management and thorough knowledge of the oil business, backed by adequate capital, can bridge the gap between the oil well, a thousand miles away and the gas tank on your car.

These the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has supplied, placing an essential commodity at your instant command for a price which, compared to that of other commodities, is negligible when you consider the high value of the service rendered by gasoline.

UNIVERSAL CONSCRIPTION IN NEXT WAR

THE DISPATCH has already favored the universal conscription plan as advocated by the late President Harding and approved of by many American Legion men. The more the subject is discussed the more popular has become the Harding suggestion that in time of war the government should adopt a universal conscription policy. The more it is studied the more it appears to be the only just plan as between man and man and as between individuals who give their services and individuals who are to give the use of their capital.

The man who is conscripted for service on the battle front receives $30 per month and subsistence. He is not only required to perform far more arduous labors than a civilian worker but must endure the dangers to life and limb and the hardships of exposure to all sorts of weather and oftentimes prolonged hunger. The man who serves in the military branch of the government has no choice in the matter. He goes where he is told, when he is told and performs the duties assigned him without question, under penalty for treason in case of refusal.

It would seem that if one man can be compelled to perform such services as that for $30 per month and subsistence, no other citizen would reasonably refuse to perform other necessary services amid the comforts and the safety of domestic activities for a similar compensation. The man who would refuse should be given the alternative of going to the front and standing shoulder to shoulder with the man on the firing line.

But it was not the Harding proposal that there should be conscription of personal services only. President Harding declared himself in favor of the conscription of all services, all industries and all capital. He would draft a captain of industry exactly as he would draft the laboring man. He would assign the captain of industry to the place where he could render the most valuable service just as he would assign the laboring man. He would place a limit upon the earnings of the captain of industry so that as long as the emergency existed he would be prevented from reaping undue profits. The Harding plan would conscript capital so that in time of war no exorbitant rates of interest could be charged and, therefore, no inflation of values could take place. Since wages could not be inflated, as they were during the world war, there would be no inflation of costs of production, no increase in the cost of living, no reason for increase in compensation in any line of industry.

THE NEW HOTEL PROPOSITION

THE new hotel proposition has emerged from the nebulous vision to something approaching the beginning of reality when S. A. Sodini, Minneapolis hotel man, placed $20,000 in Liberty bonds on the table before Con O'Brien, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce hotel committee, as a start for the new hotel, and asked him pointblank what the citizens of Brainerd intended to do. The Sodini interest in this hotel project in Brainerd will lapse midnight, Saturday, April 12, if no cooperation is shown by Brainerd.

Con O'Brien on Saturday promptly wrote out his check for $500 as a donation to the hotel cause. Steps were then taken to appoint committees on solicitation to see if Brainerd can raise the $30,000 necessary as its end of the hotel project and the mass meeting was called for Monday morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sodini brought out this point. He does not expect to take business from other hotels established. In order to make his venture successful he must create and retain new business. His various hotel connections, St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Louis and other large centers will be used to start business and divert it to Brainerd. Tourists and commercial men are expected to be brought in large numbers to this section.

CINOSAM CLUB TO EXPAND

At the annual meeting of the Cinosam club, which owns extensive properties on Gull and Round lakes, B. W. Wilder, of the law firm of Taugtes & Wilder of Minneapolis, was elected president. He is very much interested in seeing the club expand.

In a letter to the Dispatch editor, Mr. Wilder made this authoritative announcement: "I am now making arrangements to erect a club house and other club buildings on the grounds to be completed this summer, and if possible before the heavy season for tourists begins. We are going to adopt the policy of favoring the Brainerd merchants, and business men, in every respect in connection with the buying of material and supplies for the club, and I think a little publicity of this fact would bring about a warmer feeling between the Brainerd folks and the club members."

"We have no grounds manager at this time, but expect to have some one employed for that purpose who resides at Brainerd, if a suitable person can be had." Cinosam club is widely known and the knowledge that large improvements are to be made soon, plus the cooperation so freely extended by President Wilder, certainly should prove of interest to Brainerd business men especially. Cinosam club brings many visitors to this section of the 10,000 lakes and all would like to see the club continue to flourish and be a factor in our increasing lake resort trade.

"400-BUSHEL POTATO" CLUB

ACCORDING to the Kansas Industrialist, the Kansas State Agricultural College is sponsoring an organization, membership in which is restricted to those farmers who shall grow 400 bushels or more of potatoes on an acre of land. This is believed to be the second "400-Bushel Potato" club organized in this country, the other being the club that already has a year or more of successful experience behind it in Pennsylvania.

The ever growing list of state "corn," "potato," "calf" and "pig" clubs is tangible evidence of the rapidly widening conviction of the necessity for stimulating interest in higher rates of yields in crops, and higher quality in cattle and pigs, as being perhaps the most practicable means of reducing production costs and insuring a fair profit to the grower, as well as benefiting the cattle man who devotes more time to stock which responds to good feeding and does not eat up returns like scrubs.

A WOMAN told us the other day she had made a new resolve. "From now on," said she, "I'll only speak good of everybody I know."

Gasoline Prices Are Low

OF ALL you can buy for the price of a pot of coffee or the washing of four or five collars, the biggest value is a gallon of gasoline made by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This gallon of gasoline, obtainable everywhere, gives you power for your automobile. It saves you inconvenience—lost time—and often from ill health.

It carries you from 8 to 22 miles, depending upon the road, and your engine. It meets, swiftly, an emergency call in time of need. It gives you tangible, fundamental satisfaction, all for the expenditure of a few cents.

Authorities agree that the prospector and wild-catter on "probable" acreage has 1 chance in 400—while the company with a thoroughly organized geological department has but 1 chance in 20 of finding oil.

Leases on proved ground cost as much as $10,000 an acre. The average cost of drilling, today, is more than $25,000 a well.

Millions must be invested in pipe lines and tank cars to transport the crude oil. Add to this the cost of refineries—the investment in steel storage tanks to insure a dependable supply of raw materials and finished products regardless of season—the intricate machinery of transportation and delivery—gasoline service stations at convenient spots in the city and along the highway, and you will appreciate that the price of gasoline is low.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in its effort to render a vital service has been a determining factor in bringing you a gallon of gasoline at an exceedingly low price.

Only extreme efficiency in management and thorough knowledge of the oil business, backed by adequate capital, can bridge the gap between the oil well, a thousand miles away and the gas tank on your car.

These the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has supplied, placing an essential commodity at your instant command for a price which, compared to that of other commodities, is negligible when you consider the high value of the service rendered by gasoline.

BRAINERD STATE BANK CLOSED

Heavy Run on Institution This Morning Causes Doors to be Closed

DEFINITE STATEMENT SOON

Bank Now in Communication With State Banking Department

The Brainerd State Bank closed its doors at about two o'clock this afternoon. A. L. Koop, assistant cashier, makes the following statement:

"Owing to H. E. Kundert's accident this morning, a heavy run was made on the bank, forcing it to close its doors. We are in communication with the state banking department and will be in a position to make a definite announcement in the course of a day or two."

Mr. Kundert, cashier of the bank, narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation while starting his automobile this morning, and is in a serious condition at St. Joseph's hospital, so that no statement could be had from him, or from Carl Zapffe, president of the bank, who is recovering from an illness of several weeks' duration.

The Brainerd State Bank has been considered one of the city's foremost institutions. Only last year it moved into its new quarters, a home of its own at the corner of South Seventh and Laurel streets. It is hoped that the situation will be remedied and that the bank will be able to resume business in the very near future.

NEW STORE STARTED

Martin Berggreen, Formerly in Business in Crow Wing, Locates at 1618 Oak Street

Martin Berggreen, who has conducted a general store at Crow Wing station for the past seven years, has sold that business to Roy Norquist, of Brainerd, who has already taken possession.

Mr. Berggreen has rented the building at 1618 Oak street, South-east, formerly the LeMire store, and has put in a stock of groceries and confectioneries.

The new proprietor feels that with his long experience he will be able to satisfactorily serve the citizens of his section of the city. He is well known to many Brainerd people, and is a brother of George Berggreen, a former resident of this city.

GASOLINE IN STOVE WIPES OUT FAMILY

(By United Press)

Hillsboro, Ill., April 7.—Mrs. Tony Hill and her three children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Hill home on the outskirts of Hillsboro today. The husband was fatally injured.

Firemen believed Hill poured gasoline into a stove. An explosion followed and the frame structure was burned to the ground, the entire family being trapped.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Advt.

CARBON MONOXIDE GAS NEARLY FATAL

H. E. Kundert Narrowly Escaped Death When Starting Car at His Home

WIFE HEARS CALL FOR HELP

Throws Open Doors and Fresh Air Partly Revived the Banker

H. E. Kundert, cashier of the Brainerd State Bank, narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation early this morning, while starting his automobile in the closed garage at his home, 93 Bluff avenue, North, being overcome by the deadly carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust of the car.

According to reports, Mr. Kundert had only recently had his automobile overhauled and this morning told his wife that he intended to drive it down town. She heard him start the car, and in a few minutes heard him feebly call to her.

The garage is in the basement of the home, and Mrs. Kundert hurried down immediately. All that her husband could say was "Door," which he repeated several times. She opened the outside doors immediately and as she did so, Mr. Kundert collapsed.

Dr. Thabes was called and administered first aid before taking the stricken man to the hospital, where he was finally brought back to consciousness, after a great deal of hard work on the part of the attending physicians. According to hospital authorities, he is resting quite well, but is still in a serious condition.

Carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust of automobiles that are confined to small quarters, has taken a big toll of life. It is an odorless, colorless and tasteless gas, which asphyxiates its victim without any warning, according to physicians, taking effect almost instantly.

FARM LOAN APPRAISERS

Start Out Duties Again For the Minnesota Rural Credit Bureau

Farm loan appraisers for the Minnesota Rural Credit Bureau are starting their duties again after the winter's enforced quiet, says D. D. Schrader, appraiser for the Brainerd district.

Mr. Schrader states that farmers in Crow Wing county are rather slow in getting in applications for loans, and suggest that all who wish to take advantage of this opportunity should get in their applications at once. These blanks can be secured at any bank in the county and at the office of the county auditor.

Many are laboring under the misapprehension that there are more applications in than the bureau can handle, and that the available funds have been exhausted. This, according to Mr. Schrader, is not the case. While a great many applications have been made, not all of them have been allowed.

Eighteen million dollars has been loaned to date out of forty million dollars that is available, leaving twenty-two million, which the Bureau feels will take care of the loans up to January first, 1925, at which time an additional appropriation will be asked of the legislature which will be in session at that time.

HOTEL PROJECT IS CONSIDERED

35 Citizens Present at Meeting Held in Chamber of Commerce Room This Morning

CON O'BRIEN PRESIDED

Committee of 30 is Appointed to Start Solicitation of $30,000 as City's Share

Thirty-five citizens were present at the morning conference on the new hotel project held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Con O'Brien presided.

Reports were made by the committee and a general discussion ensued. It was the sense of the meeting that Jacobson Brothers, Duluth contractors, be invited to send a representative to the Chamber meeting Wednesday and present their proposition first hand to the council.

In the meantime the hotel committee will start solicitation of the $30,000 bonus desired of Brainerd. On this committee were named Dr. R. A. Beise, Mons Mahlum, Con O'Brien, A. Peterson, Asher Taylor, John H. Krekelberg, A. L. Hoffman, J. F. Cibazar, Gust Hoveas, D. E. Whitney, W. E. Haydon, S. R. Adair, Carl Zapffe, W. R. Hiller, R. L. Geist, E. P. Slipp, G. W. Chadbourne, Harry Fulerson, H. J. Hall, A. G. Trommald, S. F. Alderman, Lloyd Hough, Sam Newman, F. H. Gruenhagen, Clyde E. Parker, A. M. Opsahl, Chris Erickson, Edward Anderson, V. L. Hiten and John F. Woodhead.

Dr. Beise said all had perfect confidence in the hotel committee and would abide by its decision.

It Was Carelessness

Did you see what one little act of human carelessness did to a wonderful forest and mountain country that was pulsating with life and beauty? How that act of carelessness not only caused the ruin and desolation of a vast forest, but came near taking a heavy toll of human lives? The "Flaming Barriers" that is being shown at the Lyceum portrays to a vivid reality, a lesson that President Coolidge, by setting aside the week of April 21st to 27th, as Fire Protection Week, wants to bring to the American people.

Do you realize that there were 1600 fires reported in Minnesota last year and a half million acres burned over, causing a loss and damage to the amount of $2,135,650.00? Ninety per cent of these were caused by human agencies and could have been prevented.

See "Flaming Barriers" and you will be seized by an overwhelming desire to "throw off your coat" and get into the thickest of the fight against the "fire demon." And when you go into the woods, you will be more careful to "put out your camp fire" and to pinch out that cigarette stub before throwing it away.—Minnesota Forest Service.

BRAINERD BOYS BAND REHEARSALS

Took Advantage of Spring Vacation and Held Four the Past Week

PRESENT "MUSICAL EVENING"

At New Park Theatre Friday, April 11, Director Pleased With Progress

The Brainerd Boys Band took advantage of the spring vacation during the past week and have had four good rehearsals for their coming "Musical Evening" on next Friday, April 11th, at the New Park theatre.

The boys have been working hard and willingly, states the director, Hugo Pflock, who was much pleased with the agreeable surprise shown by the public in the improvement that the band has made, when it played at the recent automobile show. But there are many more surprises in store for those who hear the band on Friday evening.

Most of the instrumental numbers on the program will be played for the first time in public and will further give a good idea of how the organization is progressing. The concert will open with three different instrumental numbers after which one of the boys will render two clarinet solos to be followed by two catchy songs by one of the band members.

During the last four numbers the boys who play in "The Village Band" a comedy sketch, will have ample time to dress for this playlet, so that there will be no unnecessary delays. "The Village Band" will consume about one-half hour to perform. It is full of good comedy, being a burlesque on a typical rube band.

After this number, Director Pflock will render several instrumental solos and the band will close the evening with five selections. Mr. Pflock has composed a march especially for this occasion, which he has entitled, "The Brainerd Boys Band March" which will be played on this program.

A matinee concert will be given for the benefit of the school children after school on Friday. Tickets for both matinee and evening performance may be secured from the boys in the band. A majority of these tickets are already sold, reports Mr. Pflock, showing that citizens generally are behind this youthful organization. Those who have not secured their tickets are asked to do so at once. The band will be in uniform at both performances.

GRAND OPENING APRIL THE 8

All Are Welcome

TWO BIG FIGHTS FOR N. Y. THIS SUMMER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, April 7.—Two big shots are all that the summer boxing program can hold. The outdoor season last summer was overcrowded with feature events and promoters and the public suffered.

These are the opinions of Tex Rickard, America's premier boxing promoter, who admits that he is facing his biggest job in giving the sport public this summer the best, in the smallest quantity.

"It was my intention originally to try two big spectacles with Jack Dempsey in one corner, but I find now that this will be impossible. I can use Dempsey only once, and his single appearance must be in the windup show of the season," Rickard said.

Rickard insists that the plans he had in mind for Dempsey were set aside by the insistence of Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, that his charge was not in physical condition to take any kind of a chance until September.

In announcing that he had been forced to abandon plans for a Dempsey-Gibbons contest early in June, Rickard told the United Press that he was willing to stage the contest, that he had reached an agreement on terms with Gibbons, but that Kearns said his champion wasn't in condition to go.

Kearns claims that he was all set to go, that he had placed a return match with Gibbons first on his list of prospects, but that Rickard had told him that it would be impossible to stage a big championship match until the Democrats had picked their man to make the big race this fall.

"I told Rickard," Kearns said, "that we would not remain idle until June, because it would take at least 45 days to steam up the fight that would run us into the late summer. We couldn't sign for a July or an August date and keep it quiet until the first of July.

"We had many offers for other fights. Jim Coffroth wanted to put us on in Tijuana early in the summer. We had offers for a fight with Gibbons from several other promoters and we had a couple of movie contracts that we had to consider because the price was so good. So I told Rickard if he couldn't do business for an early June date we would have to look elsewhere."

WINDSOR QUINT
GAINS TITLE

THE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE U. S. IS THE PRIZE

Windsor high school captured the high high school championship of the United States in the tournament held in Chicago and it is a triumph of the far west, which never before entertained such an honor. The team used the five-man defense system of play. Wonderful teamwork was shown in offense and defense. It defeated Yankton, S. D., by a score of 25 to 6.

Walla Walla made the highest team score of the tourney when it defeated El Reno, Oklahoma, by 57 points.

In the final round of the tournament Windsor defeated Manchester, N. H., 25 to 15.

THRILLING CATCH
SPOILS CHANCE TO LEAD BATSMAN

Lakeland, Fla., April 7.—You may recall that for months last season Charley Jamieson, the Indians' left fielder, was in the thick of the fight for the league batting championship.

At one time he was leading the great Ruth by nearly 30 points and as late as August he was but 12 points behind the pace-setting Heilmann. Then suddenly he went into a mysterious slump, and dropped steadily back, finally finishing with a .345 mark.

The critics explained the slump by saying Jamieson had been hitting over his head, and this was generally accepted as the truth.

The fact was, however, Jamieson developed a stiff neck following a somersault catch and this stayed with him for weeks, affecting his swing and timing to such an extent that he was unable to meet the ball solidly.

When he finally recovered he was too far back to catch up with the leaders.

For all that the Connie Mack discard made more hits than any other player in the league and this spring he stands out as a formidable challenger for the batting championship.

IRON-MAN STUNT
TO BE PASSED UP
BY RAY SCHALK

Jacksonville, Fla., April 7.—Ray Schalk's day as an iron-man catcher is ended.

The White Sox star, who holds the major league record for consecutive games caught, does not plan to catch more than 70 or 80 games this season.

Last year Schalk caught 121 games but he is no longer a youngster and the continuous service took much out of him.

This year he will come close to dividing the burden with Clyde Crouse, who finished the season with the club last year.

A newcomer, Joe Burns, from Shreveport, developed by Ira Thomas, is well thought of, and will break into a number of games back of the plate himself.

"Flaming Barriers" Great Paramount Picture at Lyceum

Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno and Walter Hiers are featured players in the Paramount picture, "Flaming Barriers," a George Melford production which had a highly successful premiere at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday. "Flaming Barriers" is worthy of commendation as something out of the ordinary run of screen entertainment. It is the story of a city man sent by his father as an efficiency expert to the little town of Burbridge and the machine shop of Patrick Malone. The fact that Malone's daughter, Jerry, captures Barton's heart at first sight does not make his task any easier. But he comes through with flying colors, returning home in triumph to teach Barton, Sr., the royal game of golf, on which subject Sam is not a mere enthusiast but a 'bug.'

"Flaming Barriers" has everything a good, fast moving picture should have and it will please all classes because it hits life from so many angles and hits it with swift, sure touches of realism. It will be shown again tonight and Tuesday.

TWO BIG FIGHTS FOR N. Y. THIS SUMMER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, April 7.—Two big shots are all that the summer boxing program can hold. The outdoor season last summer was overcrowded with feature events and promoters, and the public suffered.

These are the opinions of Tex Rickard, America's premier boxing promoter, who admits that he is facing his biggest job in giving the sport public this summer the best, in the smallest quantity.

"It was my intention originally to try two big spectacles with Jack Dempsey in one corner, but I find now that this will be impossible. I can use Dempsey only once, and his single appearance must be in the windup show of the season," Rickard said.

Rickard insists that the plans he had in mind for Dempsey were set aside by the insistence of Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, that his charge was not in physical condition to take any kind of a chance until September.

In announcing that he had been forced to abandon plans for a Dempsey-Gibbons contest early in June, Rickard told the United Press that he was willing to stage the contest, that he had reached an agreement on terms with Gibbons, but that Kearns said his champion wasn't in condition to go.

Kearns claims that he was all set to go, that he had placed a return match with Gibbons first on his list of prospects, but that Rickard had told him that it would be impossible to stage a big championship match until the Democrats had picked their man to make the big race this fall.

"I told Rickard," Kearns said, "that we would not remain idle until June, because it would take at least 45 days to steam up the fight that would run us into the late summer. We couldn't sign for a July or an August date and keep it quiet until the first of July."

"We had many offers for other fights. Jim Coffroth wanted to put us on in Tijuana early in the summer. We had offers for a fight with Gibbons from several other promoters and we had a couple of movie contracts that we had to consider because the price was so good. So I told Rickard if he couldn't do business for an early June date we would have to look elsewhere."
